

Verse 1

Imagine with me that we all can be the best that we're able true individuality.

We'll all work together as we learn to be a caring part of a global community.

Verse 2

It doesn't matter that our words aren't the same, our skin tones are different or that we have different names.

These things make us special / with special skills as we grow
We have to each others / so they all can know

Chorus

To learn means more than books and paper, to learn means more than to memorize.

To learn means knowing one another by seeing deep within their eyes.

Cause when we truly "see" each other, we'll help the world to understand.

We need to look through the glass, not into the mirror;
Look past ourselves to give to another.

Broaden our minds, shine our lights, each boy and girl.

We need to be, to be a window to the world.
