A Note From Mrs. Burris

Please remember to read, write, practice sight words and count with your child daily. These are important tools to help your child be successful in school. Reading to them or listening to them read will help them in all areas of school. I cannot stress how important this is.

A Peek At What We Are Learning

Reading

This week in reading we are starting a new unit. Students will focus on using the skills they have been learning this year to become better, stronger readers. We will review skills and strategies learned so far.

Writing

This week in writing we are beginning a new writing unit. We will begin writing all about books. Students will pick an animal to research and begin writing all about it. I will be sending home a letter and research chart this week.

Math

This week in math we are wrapping up our unit on composing and decomposing. We will begin our measurement unit on Wednesday.

Homework

You should also be reading 15 minutes daily as well as practicing sight words daily! After you read ask your child some questions about the story to help build reading comprehension!
